

Council Member Debi Rose

Project Hospitality, Pride Center of Staten Island, Superintendent of Staten Island Schools and Project Reach

invite you to the

Staten Island-wide Anti-Discrimination Clinics

Wednesday, June 8, 2016
8:30am-4pm

Stapleton Library
132 Canal Street, Staten Island, NY 10304

This 6-hour Anti-Discrimination Clinic will bring together 30-40 educators, service providers and professionals from schools and community organizations servicing young people and families throughout Staten Island.

A parallel Anti-Discrimination Clinic for young people will also take place on Wednesday, June 22nd at the Stapleton Library, 132 Canal Street, Staten Island, NY 10304.

"With these clinics, Project Reach and its co-sponsors seek to establish community and school-based Intergenerational Anti-Discrimination Teams of young people and adults in Staten Island, trained to address bullying, bias and discrimination.

Drawing from 35 years of anti-discrimination and social justice training, Project Reach will offer a unique opportunity to individuals, organizations and schools to experience its most successful and impactful workshops.

All people who are committed to ending discrimination and fighting for social justice are encouraged to attend.

To register/apply go to: <http://bit.ly/SIClinic2016> or www.projectreachnyc.org

For more information, please email
donkao@projectreachnyc.org or katherine@projectreachnyc.org

or

Call Don - (917) 749-6116 or Katherine – (315) 664-8059